linen collar, negligee cuffs and patch pocket.

Several hundred of the newest waists, of every imaginable style, from the lowest to the highest price, are always on display in this department. No advertisement, however willing the pen and faithful the brush, can give an adequate idea of such a brilliant assemblage. One comprehensive statement, however, we cannot reiterate too often, as it touches or its modishness. The volume of our sales governs our profits, and not individual sales. Many of the New Butter Color Walsts Will Be Seen in a Stroll Through Our Aisles. But Interest Revolves About Price, and a Good Starting Price Is 99c.

insertion, and a short narrow jabot of lace down centre. Also White Voile Peplum Blouses, with a panel of mercerized embroidery down the front. At $1.39 there are White Crepe "Shirts," with detachable, linked negligee

At 99c there is a pretty Lawn Waist trimmed with wide novelty filet collar or laundered collar. Also tucked shirts of the same material, with cluster of pearl buttons down the front. At $1.59, a Cluster-corded White Madras "Shirt," very mannish, and just the sort of waist a business woman prefers. It has detached, laundered

At $1.98, a dozen styles of Lingerie Waists, trimmed with every sort of new wash lace and embroidery, in neat, as well as fussy styles. Several are the collarless blouses that are so becoming to young women.

At $2.97, one might almost say there is no limit to the choosing. Two dozen Lingerie Blouses are on view, many copied from higher-priced blouses. One of these, a Voile Blouse, has Pierrot collar and double elbow frills of accordioned Valenciennes lace.

In the new butter color, there are a linen "shirt" with negligee collar, patch pocket and soft cuffs, and a Dutch neck shirtwaist of nainsook embroidered in white, with flat scalloped collar. White Silk Shirt Waists at this price have square collar, patch pocket, tie and elbow cuffs striped in color. These are $5.00 elsewhere, as are the White Ratine Towelling Shirtwaists in similar style, trimmed with white, old blue, rose, tan or lavender chambray.

At $4.96 there is a charming Butter Color Voile Blouse, with deep collar and elbow cuffs of antique macrame lace, and tiny black velvet cravat.

At $6.94, a very dainty Nainsook Kimono Blouse has all round bertha of rose-patterned Valenciennes Van Dykes. A short square yoke is trimmed with buttons, and the flat collar of pleated lace and lawn has a bar of tiny pink satin roses and leaves across it-an absolutely new feature.

At $10.89, a Collarless Blouse of novelty crepe is heavily hand-embroidered and trimmed with entredeux of Russian lace. A wide, black satin cravat is threaded through its design and reaches to the waist.

At all prices up to $69.50, we are showing Exquisite Imported Blouses for every occasion, newly received, of white, black, and every conceivable color, in chiffon, crepe meteor, crepe de chine, hand-block printed chiffon velvet, handembroidered nets, linens, laces, chiffons, filet nets, voiles, and in fashionable Second Floor, 35th St.

Grand Jury Ask Judge Crain if They Shall Hear Schiff and Gans.

THEY APPLIED BY LETTER

Chances Are That They Will Be Heard Upon a Waiver of Immunity.

letters from Messrs. Schiff and Gans preferring the formal request for an oppor-tunity to testify. Attached to these letters was the following memorandum: . The Grand Jury desire instructions from your Honor as to their duties under the following conditions:

*Communications which are herewith submitted have been transmitted to us by the District Attorney, who advises us that it is his opinion that in the interests of public justice the two persons whose unications are submitted should be heard by this Grand Jury, provided that by their appearing before the Grand Jury they would obtain no immunity from prosecution under section 584 of the Penal Law, should this body deter-mine that indictments should be found mine that indictments should be found against them.

"The District Attorney unites with us in this request that your Honor should instruct us as to the law and as to our duties in the premises."

Judge Crain asked District Attorney Whitman if he was familiar with the contents of the documents submitted by the Grand Jury. Mr. Whitman said he was. Then the Judge said:

"In order to advise the Grand Jury and to give such deliberation to the matter as the character of the request and the whole scope of the case seems to warrant I will set the next session of the Grand Jury for next Thursday afternoon."

The District Attorney said last night that he thought it probable that Mr. Schiff and Mr. Gans would be allowed to testify, but that they would have to sign a waiver of immunity.

The Brandt Grand Jury yesterday asked Judge T. C. T. Crain of the Court of General Sessions to decide whether Mortimer L. Schiff and Howard S. Gans shall be called as witnesses in the conspiracy inquiry. Judge Crain adjourned the inquiry for a week in order that he might have time to examine the statutes and precedents that bear on immunity.

Headed by Foreman James Buckley, the Grand Jury went before Judge Crain at 3 P. M. and submitted to the Judge letters from Messrs Schiff and Gans pradictions. The grand Jury went before Judge Crain at 3 P. M. and submitted to the Judge letters from Messrs Schiff and Gans pradictions.

Familiarity

The best way for a manufacturer to popularize his product is to make the public familiar with its appearance -and its merits.

A fac simile of the package, or form of the goods, on a card in the New York City Surface Cars will make the public thoroughly familiar with the appearance of the article.

Its merits will be soon known, because the New York public, from long experience, takes kindly to ANYTHING advertised in the New York Surface Cars.
